

Now Strengthen Up the Feeble Hands

Text: Isaiah 35:4-10

By Rev. John C. Stennfeld

Tune Meter: CM

Suggested Tune: Chesterfield

Now strengthen up the feeble hands
And those knees that give way;
Then say to those with fearful hearts,
“God’s help will come one day.”

So do not fear, be strong and wait,
For our God soon will come,
And He will bring salvation to
The blind, the deaf, and dumb.

All who are lame will leap like deer
And blind eyes then will see,
The mute tongues all will shout for joy
At God’s epiphany.

The desert sands will bring forth life
As streams begin to flow,
And in the ground that once was dry
Papyrus plants will grow.

Oh bring us, Lord, this now we sing,
To that most glorious day,
When lasting joy will crown our heads
And tears will flee away.
