One Day as Jesus Stood Beside the Sea of Galilee Text: Luke 5:1-11

By Rev. John C. Stennfeld   Tune Meter: CM

Suggested Tune: Dundee

1)One day as Jesus stood beside
The sea of Galilee,
He openly proclaimed God's word
For all to hear and see.

2)And when he saw, on water's edge,
Two boats, upon the shore,
He climbed into the one to teach
The people even more.

3)And then to Simon, Jesus said,
"Take us out to the deep,
Then in the water cast your nets
That we, a catch, might reap."

4)"But master," Simon, then replied,
"We've worked hard through the night,
And haven't caught a single thing."
Thus, this did not seem right.

5)"And yet because you say so, Lord,
I'll do what you command."
And when he did, he caught more fish
Than he could understand.

6)And so it is that when we trust
In Jesus Christ, the Lord,
The blessings of his love and grace
On us will be outpoured.

7)And as we seek to do God's will,
And humbly, Him obey,
Our lives will be forever blessed
By Him from day to day.
