

Too Many People Honor God In Only What They Say

Text: Isaiah 29:11-24

By Rev. John C. Stennfeld

Tune Meter: CM

Suggested Tune: Consolation

Too many people honor God
In only what they say,
For all the while they sing His praise
Their hearts are far away.

They worship God with made up rules,
Those taught by men alone,
And have within their chests of flesh
Hearts only made of stone.

They say of God, who formed their life,
"No, He did not make me!"
And seek to hide their plans from Him,
Who yet, will always see.

The ones who live such ruthless lives
And never, God, revere,
Will suffer for their evil ways
And one day disappear.

"Singing Thru The Scriptures"

©2023 Rev. John C. Stennfeld

But those whose hearts extol the Lord,
In awe, will see His face,
And on the day of Christ's return
Will fully know His grace.

"Singing Thru The Scriptures"

©2023 Rev. John C. Stennfeld